BEST BLUES FROM BENJAMIN MOORE AND SHERWIN WILLIAMS

KELLY PAULSON

BENJAMIN MOORE

Spellbound -

This mesmerizing blue has just a touch of turquoise to add playfulness to any space.

Hale Navy -

The classic navy, Hale Navy is the most popular around. It is a go-to color for me and has never disappointed. It looks amazing with white and can add depth and interest to any space.

Mozart Blue -

A perfect blue for a hint of denim and nostalgia. This blue is a true blue. If you're looking for a little more color, this is your paint. It looks beautiful on cabinets with a little black glazing.

New Providence -

If you're searching for that classic maritime blue, this is it. This beauty works as an accent wall and will add posh to any space.

Boothbay Gray -

A soft blue-green paint color with just the right amount of gray to add sophistication. It is a beautiful color for bedrooms, cabinets, and would look wonderful with coastal living rooms and wood tones.

Breath of Fresh Air-

A very light color indeed, this blue pairs well with white trim and is reminiscent of being in the clouds. Though it is not a color for every space, in a coastal retreat or nursery, this calming color works.

Van Courtland Blue -

This old world blue translates perfectly to a traditional home. It looks wonderful on kitchen cabinets and in offices or bedrooms.

Van Deusen Blue -

A gorgeous blue that is rich in color and personality. A true blue and that offers more touch of color than traditional navy. It is a very popular color for cabinets and furniture. I think this is my new favorite.

SHERWIN WILLIAMS

Naval -

A classic navy with sophistication and depth for any room. This navy is my go-to navy for SW paint colors.

Indigo Batik -

A rich blue similar to blueberry with a touch of lavender. It looks wonderful for a study or accent wall.

Krypton -

A soft trending gray that pairs well with white. A light blue with a touch of gray so it's not too baby blue. Perfect for a master bathroom and quartz counters.

Tradewind -

This soft pastel blue has a lot of green and is a great sea-glass color. It is light and fresh - pairing well with a neutral or teal.

Foggy Day-

A perfect exterior blue with a touch of grey

Let It Rain -

A few shades darker than Krypton, this blue is a mid-tone gray that can also read blue. Perfect for a relaxing bedroom.

Grey Screen -

A very light blue-gray. This color works well as a main color and pairs with white, navy as well as green.

Oceanside -

A harmony of blue and green, this color is full of energy. Bold and fun, use it as an accent color or to pop a piece of furniture.

Debonair -

A perfect mid-tone blue with a touch of green. This is an all around favorite and can be used almost anywhere!

Waterloo -

A great blue exterior paint as well as darker blue with some color for an office or bedroom.
